Time for Trends...

So you think your BMW is hot? Well put it against one of the top 10 most expensive cars of 2006 and it may look like a Pinto. Interestingly enough, no Ferrari, Aston, Bentley, Lamborghini or Rolls-Royce even made the exclusive Forbes list. Of the ten most expensive cars, only two are "household" names- Porsche and Mercedes-Benz. These autos are beautiful, daring and Mainstream cars can't even speeds set records. Their pioneering and ultimately only by the wealthiest of connoisseurs. Ask us for

Bugatti $1.19million USD

Other cars included on this prestigious list include: Pagani Zonda Roadster, SSC Ultimate Aero, LeBlanc Mirabeau, Saleen S7 Twin Turbo, Koenigsegg CCR, Venturi Fetish, Mercedes SLR McLaren, Maybach 62 & Porsche Carrera GT

If the need for speed is still in your blood and you crave something a little more attainable, why not go to the first factory authorized Ferrari Driving School outside of Italy right here in Canada? Offered at Mont Tremblant, the exclusive school starts this May. Using a fleet of 12 new Ferrari 430s, the two-day school (for $7,200 US) will enable students to learn proper techniques and give Ferrari lovers a true "experience". This six-star encounter will host visitors at the Hotel Quintessence and give them the option of being escorted from the airport by a Ferrari, limo or helicopter.

For something even closer to home, why not experience the Edmonton Grand Prix coming in July. The ultimate Package includes behind the scene passes to see the drivers and team mechanics up close.
