There are not enough hours in a day!

Here are some of our tips to achieve efficiency & ensure you have some much required YOU time. Without time, nothing matters....

Create a Master "to-do" List: Don't hold anything back. Put anything & everything that comes to mind. Pretend you have all the time in the world.

Batch "like" Tasks Together: Categorize tasks that can be done during the same time period or in a common area.

Prioritize Urgency: Decide which tasks just cannot be ignored another day and which can wait a little longer. Delegate the things you do not want to do.

Set Daily & Weekly Objectives: This gives you an endpoint. Don't worry if you have to move the task to the next week!

Tourist Traps Worth the Crowds & the Trip

Eiffel Tower (Paris): Meant to only stand for 20 years after it was unveiled in 1889. 6 million visitors a year can't be wrong!

Grand Canyon (Arizona): Impressive and magical. Worth any kind of experience; a view from above, a hike down the rim, a raft on the Colorado River or a helicopter tour.

Taj Mahal (India): Completed in 1653. This peaceful beauty took 20,000 people & almost 20 years to bring to reality.

Machu Picchu (Peru): Nestled in the Andes this mysterious village was built in the mid 15th century and not rediscovered until 1911.

Uluru (Australia): Visitors flock to this spiritual formation at dawn and dusk to watch the rocks magically change colors. Recently re-opened.

Victoria Falls (Africa): Astonishing at 1.7 kms wide and 108 metres high. A sight not to be missed.

Oktoberfest (Munich): This iconic beerfest will celebrate its 200th anniversary in 2010. A must to experience once in your life.

How do I love thee?
Let me count the ways
